November 26, 2003

I have been a client of Wolf Baldwin and Associates for the past seven years. I have retained Mr. Bruce Baldwin for both personal and business related services. I find his approach to his clients to be the old fashion way; this meaning he is very personal and does his homework with each case. He is always well prepared therefore giving his clients a sense of ease with their case. I have always been very comfortable when having to testify due to the thoroughness of Mr. Baldwin's preparation on his cases. He follows through with all details pertaining to his cases; all the while providing these comprehensive services, which are difficult to find today, at reasonable costs to his clients.

Sincerely,

John Tomaselli
